SUNSET SCHOOL EDITION . . .

VACATION IN CARMEL—Linoleum Block by Dorothea Dawson, 8th.

Impressive Commencement Excercises at Sunset School

Tonight at seven-thirty in the Sunset School auditorium, members of the graduating class will make their way to the stage, accompanied by the music of the processional played by the school orchestra. A most interesting program will begin after Mr. O. W. Bardarson presents the class.

There will be a group of talks by the students. Houston Hannon will talk on "The Worthy Use of Leisure Time." The next talk will be "Good Taste in Reading," discussed by Billy Wheeler. Next, a High School pupil will talk on, "What the High School Offers." Other talks will be "A Well Rounded Personality," by Katherine Beaton, and "Youth Views the Future," by Raymond Brown. The final speech, "Farewell to Sunset," will be given by Dick Tevis.

The graduating class will sing two choral numbers, "Herons Homeward Flying," by Franz Liszt, and a Graduation song. A group of girls will recite, in verse choir, "The Congo," by Vachel Lindsay, and "The Lady of Shalott," by Tennyson. "The Congo" is a story in poem form telling of the Negro people. The first part suggests the warriors, the wildness, savageness of the whole race, and the superstition of uncivilized natives. The next part shows them in civilization, and how they respond to this extremely different way of living, and the last part tells of those that repent and the Congo becoming a civilized region. "The Lady of Shalot" is an entirelydifferent sort of poem, telling of a lonely weaver who falls in love with a knight, Sir Lancelot, and she dies of a broken heart because he does not love her when he has never seen or heard of her before.

The program will close with the presentation of diplomas by Mr. E. H. Ewig, chairman of the Board of Trustees. At the close of the program, the class will be entertained at a reception given by the P. T. A.—Joyce Uzzell, 8th.

STUDENTS VISIT MONTEREY HIGH

Today is not just another school day for the eighth grade students of Sunset School. The Girls League of Monterey High arranged a "Viistor's Day" for Carmel and Monterey graduates. Today we are being introduced to our future school. Every student will have a big sister or a big brother to help acquaint him with the school. The purpose of this is to help the student become familiar with the high school they will attend next fall.—Betty Wilson, 8th.

Major and Mrs. H. L. Watson and son Charles and daughter Elizabth are going to San Rafael for the Commencement exercises at the Dominican Convent where Eleanor Watson, a Sunset student, graduates this spring.

METABOLIC CLINIC BECOMES HOSPITAL

We all understand that the Grace Deere Velie Clinic has been turned into Carmel's new public hospital with pretty nurses and so forth. Perhaps now the children will use the age old trick of playing sick just to spend a time in the luxurious rooms of the clinic, providing of course they don't include on their menu the delicious drink commonly known as castor oil.

I had a very interesting interview with Mr. C. W. Lee, and he carefully gave all the important facts about the clinic. Leading citizens of the town helped to raise enough money so the clinic could start working. They now have $13,000, and they hope to have $15,000 by the first of June. Guy Koepp has been discussing the building plans with the hospital board. They will probably use three rooms in the west wing of the building for surgery, and the present nurse's quarters will be used for the maternity ward and nursery. This will reduce the cost. Recently a committee appointed by Joseph Schoeninger met the building committee to discuss general plans. Their suggestion will be given to Mr. W. W. Powell who is the president of the board. If he aproves the plans, work can be started very soon.

Residents of the Peninsula are pleased with the prospects of having a community hospital which will be run on a non-profit basis, because this will make the prices lower than those that are now being enjoyed. But I am more interested in the way they wait on you, in the charming doctors, the nice food, and the nice comfortable beds.—Evelyn Cockburn, 7th.

MEMORIAL DAY

On Wedneday, May 30th, Carmel will again observe Memorial Day. Our school will be closed, and many of the stores likewise.

Memorial Day was instituted in 1868 by the Grand Army of the Republic. On this day the graves of comrades who died in the Civil War are strewn with flowers and otherwise decorated. Today we remember also the soldiers who died in the World War.

This day should bring to our minds the great need for World Peace. We should on this day remember those who gave their lives in war. Let us on this day pray for everlasting peace for war is a terrible thing—Patrick Crichton, 7th.

CAFETERIA HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR'S OPERATION, 1933-34

In talking with Miss Blanche Heninger, I learned that the Sunset School cafeteria has progressed well this year with the help of the children, mothers and the PTA. Greater interest has been shown in the cafeteria. The meals have been carefully planned and evenly balanced, especially for the children. Some of the parents have enjoyed the delicious food prepared by Miss Heninger and her helpers. The average number of pupils eating at the school cafeteria daily is between eighty and ninety. Adults are invited to see how the cafeteria is run.

Miss Heninger will have charge of the cafeteria again next year. She will also conduct a class in cooking for the older girls.—Elaine Bullock, 8th.

Miss Ruth Askew will come over the first of June to visit her mother, Mrs. Jessie Askew.—H. M.

Mr. Donald Dawson left last Wednesday for Crystal lake ranch in Shasta county where he will spend a week or more hunting and fishing.—D. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent W. Clark paid their monthly visit to San Francisco last week end. They took up up with them Mrs. E. A. Seely-Smith.—J. C.

HELP THE DOGS AT THE CANINE CARNIVAL

Well, well, well! It's Dog Show time again. The Dog Show is going to be held on the 27th of this month on the Del Monte grounds, This will be a charity show for the Humane Society, so all good citizens should enter their canine friends or attend the show. Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the canine population of Carmel. So start brushing and bathing your dog.

This is the eleventh show of the Del Monte Kennels. The officers of the show are Mr. S. F. B. Morse, Mr. T. C. Petersen, Mrs. McKim Hollins and Miss Marion Kingsland. Members of the Bench committee are: Mrs. Sidney Fish, Mrs. Halsted Yates, Mr. Adolph Hanke, and Mr. C. M. Brown. The Judges are Miss Helen Burtless, Miss Alice Hager, Mrs. J. F. Leal, Mrs. W. A. Martel, Mrs. Halstead Yates, Mr. Adolph Hanke, Mr. Juluis F. Dupon, Mr. Athos Nilsen, Mr. Bryce Gillespie, Mr. Robert Nolan, Mr. Alex Young and Mr. Anton Korbel.

There will probably be three or four hundred entries.—Junie Clark 7th.

P. T. A. ENDS YEAR OF ACTIVE OPERATION

On May tenth, the last P. T. A. meeting for this school year was held. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Karl Rendtorff gave a talk on the library expenses, and answered questions that came up concerning the library. Mrs. Daisy Taylor reported on the P. T. A. convention in Sacramento.

Miss Madeline Currey was the first speaker on the program. She explained briefly how music was taught in the different grades. Elizabeth Watson and Clayton Askew gave a demonstration. Miss Althea Kendal gave a speech on Scientific Child Study. She told about a study she was making on certain children. Some children in the primary classes have been finding it difficult to master reading. Others have difficulties which she is going to try and find out what it is that keeps them from grasping what the normal child does.

The last speaker was Miss Elinor Smith. She told about the different attitudes people took on Nature. She related a few interesting incidents and closed by reading a few peoples' point of view on Nature and on the way the Indians felt when Nature was destroyed by the white man.

Mrs. Grace Plank, the outgoing president, expressed her appreciation to those who had cooperated with her. Mr. Bardarson also expressed his appreciation for all that Mrs. Plank had done for the P. T. A.

During the past year the P. T. A. has had the teachers speak at the meetings on various ways of teaching. They held their annual P. T. A. dinner. The greatest event was the carnival which was given to raise money for the P. T. A. welfare fund.

The officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Eugene Watson; Vice President, Mrs. Grace Plank; Secretary, Mrs. Anna Kohner; Treasurer, Mrs. John Neikirk; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. M. Calley. We, as the pupils, hope there will be a larger attendance next year at the P. T. A. meetings. The talks are made for the benefit of the parents, and if our mothers and fathers come, they can meet the teachers and know how their children are getting along in school.—Jane Haskell, 8th.

THE RED CROSS

The unempolyment situation in Carmel is said to be in exceedingly good condition. The prospect for the coming summer is very bright, as there is hardly any unemployed to look after. During the past winter, the NRA program, which has now expired, did a great deal of good according to the Red Cross agency. Many of the people who were on the relief rolls now have jobs, all of which goes to show that prosperity is returning.—D. T. & B. B.

WINS HONORS

Jack Searle, former Carmel boy and the son of Mrs. Vera Koch of this town recently won high honors in the San Francisco Chronicle Trap Shooting Tourney held in that city. While here Searle was a duck hunting enthusiast, so was in good practice for the tourney.—L. V.

Esto Broughton who once lived in Carmel and was very active in the affairs of the village, arrived Sunday to call on friends and look over her property. She now lives in Sacramento, conducting a political journal of her own.—J. M.

A TRIBUTE

Because I am a scholar of the fifth grade I can easily see that when Mrs. Montmorency leaves Sunset School the school will have lost one of its best teachers. In many of the school's productions Mrs. Montmorency has in some way done much to make them a success. Every year her class play has been a "hit" because she has done so much to make it so. The Carnival would not have been so successful if Mrs. Montmorency had not introduced the peep-show and the side-show. She has done much to improve her class year by year.

Mrs. Montmorency has helped me individually out of many bad habits. I have often said to my mother, "She has done more for me than any other teacher I have known. I hope Mrs. Montmorency does as good at house-keeping as she has done at teaching. I also hope our school will not be a failure without her. We are very sorry you are going Mrs. Montmorency and we hope you have a good time as a housekeeper!—John Plank, 5th.

Dr. Thomas L. Morgan and family are moving to Oakland this summer.

VACATION OR SPORTS
Linoleum Block by Joyce Uzzell, 8th.

OUR TEACHERS PLAN SUMMER VACATIONS

After nine months of intensive hard work, the teachers begin very happily to look forward to the three month's vacation, and to plan to fill the three months with as much as they can get in them, or it may be the case of some of the other teachers who plan to spend the three months just recovering from the other nine.

Mrs. Frances Johnson will spend her vacation with her family in San Jose. Mr. Calley will be going to grand old Yosemite. Mrs. Anna Kohner is not sure what she is going to do, or where she is going, possibly to Lake Tahoe. Mrs. Bernita Ninneman plans to go to Berkeley to summer school. Miss Althea Kendall will take six weeks of intensive work in creative dancing with Miss Eleanor Jameson in Berkeley, working to give a concert at the end of the summer. Mrs. Edna Lockwood is going to Clearlake Highlands with her husband, Mr. D. C. Lockwood. Mrs. Frances Farley is going to spend her summer in Berkeley. Miss Marian Ohm will spend part of her summer in San Francisco. Miss Madeline Currey will spend the summer at her home in San Rafael. Mr. R. J. Gale will attend summer school at the State college in San Francisco. He plans also to spend a month in Mexico City.—Norris Thompson, 7th.

NEW MEN'S CLUB FORMED

A new club has been formed for the old and young men of Carmel. The club is the "Adventurers' Club". Last Saturday evening at 7:30 it held its first meeting. The toastmasters were James Thoburn and Stephen A. Reynolds. Among those who spoke on their adventures were "Gus" Englund, Fritz Wurzmann and others. The meetings will be held at "Steve Patterson's Old Chop House."

VACATION—Linoleum Block by Arline Plein, 8th

Vacation Comes
AND ARE WE DOWNHEARTED? STOP — LOOK — LISTEN

Hip, hip, hooray! Only one more week of school and we will be free! We all love our teachers and books and all that, but when the call of the swiming pool and camping is heard, the fishing tackle, riding boots and bathing suits are taken off the shelf and the school books are put on the shelf, not to be used until September fourth when school starts again. But lets not talk about school starting again when there is vacation to be had!—Bob Farley, 7th.

Carmel is just the place to vacation in. It has a fine climate, beautiful beach, interesting places—in fact everything necessary to bring vacationists .If some of the staff of this paper composed a Junior Chamber of Commerce how would they describe Carmel so that visitors and vacationists would come? Let's see.

Carmel is known all over the world, at least Warren Jiminez thinks so, for he says, "Carmel is noted for its beautiful and interesting sites," and Jane Ellen Parker hits the nail on the head when she says: "Why not visit Carmel for your vacation?" Why not? Susan McGraw thinks the same thing, "Carmel is the ideal place to spend the summer." Come on all, now's the time to pack your bags, and be off to Carmel!

But what about the interesting places? "There is the beach for instance," Patty Lou Elliott explains, "and the mission is another great place of interest," adds Carol Bailey. "Carmel offers the beach and the ocean", writes Bill Welsh. And besides, points out Ethel Warrington, "There is Point Lobos on one side, Cypress Point on the other and a background of Mountains in the east."

Let's see about Carmel's climate? "You'll like it because of the cool, foggy breezes," Geraldine Kerner explains. Is that an insult or a compliment? This is better writes Billy Wheeler, "The salty tang keeps every person on his toes!"

But enough of the climate, one thing that attracts people to Carmel is the originality of the people living here. "We may see many quaint and original persons," Camille Burnham tells us. And Dorothea Dawson decribes Carmel by saying that it is a "funny little village of Literarians and poets." Doris Crossman thinks, "Carmel is a unique little village." And not only do the people of Carmel attract visitors but there is also the sport angle as Tom Brown explains by saying: "You can swim in the ocean, you can ride horseback or go boating or camping. Besides this there is tennis, golf and the like."

Now we'll end up this article that we hope will bring you to Carmel this Summer. Irene Fackenthal expresses all of our sentiment by saying "For a jolly place to live Carmel surpasses them all," and Katharine Beaton says, "Carmel is the place for you." Patricia Mack explains, "Any person who wants to come to Carmel will be gladly welcomed and every effort made to entertain you." Now don't you think you'd have an excellent time in Carmel?" asks Patty Lou Elliot. Sure you will, say we!

After reading this I know that you're just "raring" to pack up and come to Carmel for a visit. We'll be a seein' you soon!—Dick Tevis, 8th.

P. T. A. TEA THURSDAY

In honor of the teachers of Sunset School, the Parent-Teachers Association of Carmel were hosts to the teachers of the school Thursday afternoon. The guest of honor was Mrs. Mae Montmorency who will resign from the school this year. The tea was held in Mrs. Trowbridge's high first grade room. A musical program by some of the students of Sunset was the entertainment for the large number of parents and teachers who attended. All the teachers, parents and students will miss Miss Montmorency, who has been at the school for four years.—L. V. A., 7th.

OPERA ASSOCIATION HAS NEW OPERA IN REHEARSAL

The Monterey Peninsula Opera Association was formed last fall. The purpose of the organization is to give the people who are interested in opera a chance to show their talent. Rehearsals have started on "Yeomen of the Guard", by Gilbert and Sullivan, a comic opera to be given early in the fall.

Mr. Arthur Gunderson is directing "Yeomen of the Guard". He has already successfully directed "Pinafore," two years ago, "Pirates of Penzance," last summer, and "Patience," last spring.

The opera company meets each Thursday night at the home of Verne Williams in Pacific Grove. As "Yeomen of the Guard" needs a large number of men, it is possible for anyone with a voice to join. —Jane Millis, 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitman are planning to leave for San Francisco with their son, Paul Whitman, Jr., and their lovely daughter, Miss Ann Whitman. They will stay for some time.—J. G.

Earl De Moe, known as sonny, who has been in Michigan going to school, will arrive soon to stay in Carmel for the summer vacation He loves Carmel and his friends, and hopes to stay as long as possible.—B. D.

"DANGEROUS CORNER" NEXT WEEK'S DRAMATIC OFFERING

"Dangerous Corner" by J. B. Priestly who has written the well known novel "Good Companions," will be presented by the Carmel Community Players at the Denny-Watrous Gallery beginning Wednesday May 30th and running three days, under the capable direction of Gordon Davis who has directed various plays in many different places.

"Dangerous Corner" is a tense, exciting mystery play—one that will keep you guessing all the time. But unlike most mystery plays, it does not have shooting, darkness, screams, and the like. Instead, it is like a Greek drama in that it unfolds the past of the characters, their motives, passions, and all that has happended to them in the past.

Two married couples are portrayed by Ruth Thompson and Lloyd Weir, as Freda and Robert Chateld, and Mary Henderson and Bud Mills as Betty and Gordon Whitehouse. Visiting them are Byington Ford as Charles Stanton, Paula Dougherty as Olwen Peale, and Olga Fish as Maud Mochridge. They appear to be living peacefully until the past happenings of each one are unburied. Their lives are disrupted as more and more things are dug up.

The general theme is that there is a dangerous corner in everyone's life and if it is passed, all is well. If not—well, see "Dangerous Corner" and find out.—Dick Tevis, 8th.

MARUCHESS AND HER VIOLA D'AMORE
by Hal Garrott

The New Deal is so contagious the whole world is changing. Concert conventions of one hundred years standing are giving way to novelties.

Alix Young Maruchess, distinguished concert violinist, endeared herself to a good sized audience in the Denny-Watrous Gallery last Saturday by departing from the usual procedure. Miss Maruchess performed a wide variety of compostions, antique, classical, ultra modern, folk songs, ranging from a horn pipe to a touching lullaby to Sancho Panza's donkey! Some of them she performed on a viola; others on an all but obsolete instrument of the 17th and 18th centuries, the viola d'amore.

Shaped like a "bull" (contra bass) fiddle, with sloping shoulders, this big viola has no less than fourteen strings, seven to be played on, and seven similarly tuned to intensify vibration. Some exquisite tones responded to the soloist's skillful bow, though the difficulty of keeping track of so many strings and the super-human task of keeping them all in tune at the same time, rendered impossible any such smoothness and finish as one experiences at the hands of a first class concert violinist. The novelty of seeing and hearing this sweet voiced ancestor of the violin in the hands of so accomplished an artist more than made up for any lack in recital perfection.

The viola d'amore has numerous personalities, and no doubt, moods. For a Scotch lassie it can be made to squeal like bag pipes, but far more enjoyably. At times it suggests a harp, a harpsichord, a violin and a cello.

Alix Young Maruchess was especially appealing in the final section of her remarkable program. The performer resembles somewhat a portarait of Clara Schumann, and her charming 18th century costume bore out the likeness. The vivid personality, the musical and mental gifts residing behind those strong, almost classic features were revealed again and again in inspiring interpretation. Ralph Linsley at the piano distinguished himself by flawless accompaniments.

CARMEL ART ASSOCIATION EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS

Upon entering the Carmel Art Association Gallery I found that the majority of the exhibit was done in water colors. The most colorful of these paintings was the "Cathedral Rocks" by William Watts. There were many water colors done their artists being: James Fitzgerald, John O'Shea, Armin Hansen, Paul Whitman, Homer Levinson, Henrietta Shore, William Watts, Burton Boundey, Julie Stohr, Rowena Abdy, Stanley Wood, Percy Gray, Paul Dougherty, M. De Neale Morgan, William Ritschel, M. N. Levick, E. M. Heath, Laura Maxwell, E. Cheney Brown, and Josephine M. Culbertson. Everyone is invited to come and view the exhibit as the gallery is open almost all day.—Doris Crossman, 8th.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Last Friday I attended a very lovely dance recital given by Ruth Austin and her pupils. The whole class participated in the opening exercises. Then several girls did a sweet dance accompanied by Mary Walker. Following was a solo by Babette De Moe. Next Ann Millis did an old fashioned dance. Then five of the girls did an extremely nice Russian dance. A very direct and interesting Indian dance was done by Roe Marie Mattimore. Next the seven older girls gave a lovely German dance. Although they could not perform in the lovely costumes that had been planned, the dances were so very nice that the program was a great success.—Joyce Uzzell, 8th.

RECITAL AT THE GALLERY

Last Saturday evening at the Denny-Watrous Gallery, Madame Alix Young Maruchess gave a very lovely recital, with Ralph Linsley assisting her at the piano. She played the music of classical and contemporary composers. She began her program with selections for the viola and among these I found the "Farmer's Wedding" by Alfred Moffat an 18th century composer the most interesting.

Among the selections on the viola d'amore I liked the "Serenade de l'amant jaloux" by Gretry, a 16th century composer best. Madame Maruchess also spoke on the hitory of the viola d'amore which to me was the most interesting. The audience seemed very interested and for myself, I managed to keep awake, even though it was long past my bed-time. —Joyce Uzzell, 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Comstock and their two sons, David and Max, are going to spend part of their vacation in Canada, fishing. They leave on June 17th and expect to stop at several good fishing rivers where they will enjoy the trout fishing. And plan to stop at Yellowstone for a short time.—Max H.

Mrs. J. A. Anderson and children, Marguerite and Bernadine, will visit Mrs. George Sevenman at Castle Rock, near Redding. They will leave Carmel in the middle of June.—M. A.

This, That And Everything

A Column of Strays

As I stand in front of the Post Office trying to interest some Carmelite in the paper I sell, I get a bird's eye view of the town and its happening. I see Winsor Josselyn scurrying around trying to dig up news for his column in the Pine Cone, and Rannie Cockburn also hurrying to finish his work at the press. Then come Willard Whitney and Art Shand debating about the sanitary board. I see Fred Bechdolt talking with several old timers about the Western Days that have gone. Officer Charles Guth reminds somebody he is double parking and will pay a fine if he is caught again. So the procession moves down the street. I see Daisy Bostick interesting some visitor in Carmel cottages. My attention leaves Real Estate when I glimpse a Carmel woman wearing a very masculine outfit. I ask myself what is this Marlene Deitrich doing walking around our streets when she surprises me by buying two papers and giving me a tip. Suddenly I hear the fire siren and am ready for some excitement. I see Pon Chung and Bob Leidig running toward the firehouse at full speed. I start running myself toward the scene, with Winsor who wants the same news. To our disappointment the fire engine has stopped and the members on it sit chuckling. The boy scouts have forgotten what they learned and have started a fire. We are disgusted and ready to go home when yelps and barks draw us back to the Post Office. Two dogs of primitive origin are fighting. A huge English Bull dog and a witty collie are taking their woes out on each other. Gus Englund and Bob Norton rush to the scene of disaster. At the Post Office Mr. Curtis is muttering about the shopping news. The post office inside looks like a junkman's pile although many waste baskets have been placed, the news is scattered left and right. My attention is again attracted by the two realtors, Daisy Bostick and Barney Segal, approaching my post. Barney buys my paper, and Daisy not to be outdone promptly does the same. They politely speak to each other but I wonder what their inside thoughts are. I decided to call it a day. What a day!—Bud Brownell, 8th.

"DANGEROUS CORNER" BUT IT IS PASSABLE

Who speaks the truth? Do you? Is it better to "let the sleeping dog lie?" That is the "dangerous corner" that Freda and Betty and Olwen—and Stanton and Gordon and Robert passed. Whether it would have been better for Olwen and Freda and Betty to have told all the truth, or to have kept it locked within their tortured breasts is for you to decide when you see "Dangerous Corner," a play in three acts, directed by Gordon Davis, presented by the Comumnity Players next week in the Denny-Watrous Gallery, opening Wednesday, May 30, and running through Saturday, June 2.

"Be the matter what it may—
Always speak the truth.
If at work or if at play—
Always speak the truth."

Mrs. Ilene Glascock and daughter, Jane, will spend the summer in San Mateo with Mrs. Glascock's brother.—L. V.

Donald and Bob Morton will spend two months in the Carmel mountains. Cyril Stevenson will go to Mt. Vido near Napa. Mr. and Mr. Rudolph Lange and son, William, will spend three months at their ranch down the coast, on Joshua Creek.

• DON'T TAKE TIRE WORRIES ALONG ON YOUR TRIP

Drop them off here before you start out this week-end or next Wednesday

It's a lot safer, more pleasant and cheaper in the end to start out on new tires—particularly since prices are still so low . . . And because Goodyear makes the most tires—by millions—and so offers the biggest money's worth at every price—it's a lot wiser to choose new Goodyears . . . Come and see why more people buy Goodyears than any other tire—just name your price and look at the Goodyear it buys!

NEW "G-3" GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER
The greatest Goodyear tire of all time — 43% more non-skid mileage—tougher rubber and more of it — the tire that outgrips and outlasts them all. See it!
And the best news of all: This marvelous new Goodyear 'G-3' with its many advantages over any other tire on the market costs you nothing extra.

OUR SOLES REPAIRED

As I looked over the paper, I saw that in Rome charity funds furnish shoes for seven thousand children, and they also have shops where a child can go and have his shoes repaired free. So, since Carmel roads are hard on shoes, and there may be extra funds, why not furnish shoes for all of the youths of Carmel, and also have shops where we can go and have a free shoe-shine and get our soles repaired?—Jack Pelton, 7th.

AN IDEA FOR CARMEL

I have heard that there is a school started in Russia for children who are talented in writing. Now I don't want to propose Communism, but I think this would be a very good idea for Carmel. There are quite a few artists, painters, musicians, and writers who might make very good teachers if they had a chance. This would keep the artists occupied and help develop any talent that would otherwise be neglected. Any extra unemployment funds might be used for this end.—Barbara Haasis, 8th.

OUR LIBRARY

The library means much to the people of Carmel. The summer visitors also like and use it a great deal. Do you know that the Carmel library has three times as many borrowers as the library of any other town of its size? It helps to make people like Carmel, and is very worthy of our support—Carol Canoles, 4th.

CARMEL SHOPS

Carmel shops are the quaintest of all the shops I have known. If you have ever been traveling you would know how quaint they really are. For instance there is the El Paseo Building, the Treasure Chest and the Seven Arts building. The merchants who occupy these shops import foreign clothes, jewelry, etc. mostly.—Dorothea Smith, 7th.

THE CARMEL PARK

In Carmel we have a park. It has a lawn and a fish pond. If you throw rocks at the fish you go to court. You are not allowed to play on the grass. The park is made very beautiful by having shrubs and flowers. The birds use our park as a feeding place. These birds help to keep the worms away.—Fred Marshall, 7th.

EARLY TO RISE

Carmel is just loaded with nature. Her hills are covered with flowers and trees. And believe me, if you want a taste of Carmel's beauty, get up at four in the morning and watch the sun rise and hear the birds sing.—Dawn Overhulse, 6th.

CRIME IN CARMEL

Carmel has been very fortunate in having a policeman good enough to cut down on crime. In other cities with a larger police force there is more crime. Carmel has no murders on the whole, and very few thefts.—Katherine Beaton, 8th.

TROUT SEASON FATALITIES

With the opening of Trout season on May first, the Carmel hard ware store had much business. Also as rumor went around that the fish were plentiful, big and biting, many of the boys who went home for lunch did not come back that afternoon. When asked where they had been, the short answer was, "fishing."—George Crossman.

WILL THE WOMEN REIGN

Judging from a recent issue of the Pine Cone, the women of Carmel are getting more credit for Carmel's fame than the men. I think the men ought to do something about it. It is generally known that there are more women than men in Carmel. The men had better look to their laurels or they won't get their night out a week.

Recently in one of the papers, I read an article about a certain isle where there were about fifty women to every thirty men. A man can have four wives there, in fact, he must. The women make the laws, most of which are for the mens' protection. In fact, one woman had to work out for thirty days in the fields for flirting with one of the men when he was working.—Katherine Beaton, 8th.

TWO GREAT DAYS

All children should be kind and help their mothers in any way possible. But since some children do not, there has been one day set aside as Mother's Day. On this day, children should be extra kind to their mother.

All the soldier's, whether they are dead or alive, are honored on May 30th which is Memorial Day for fighting for their country. Whether they did brave deeds or not, whether they were heroic men or poor and simple, they are thought of on this day—Gordon Ewig, 6th.

KEEP OUR CITY CLEAN

Part of the town's charm and beauty is in having clean streets. Do all in your power to keep Carmel clean. Let us not throw papers on the street or on the beach.

Keep Our City Clean!—Jimmie Kelsey, 4th.

THE FIREHOUSE and LIBRARY

In an interview with Mr. Catlin some points of vital interest to the public were discussed. Mr. Catlin's opinion of the firehouse and city hall proposition is as follows: "The people registered a decided "No" on the issue of building a city hall and firehouse. It would be a piece of unwarranted arrogance for the council to submit the question to them again."

Speaking of the library situation, he said: "Many of the citizens object to a tax of 21c on the hundred dollars assessed valuation. They say it is too much and they are entitled to their point of view and to have their elected representatives consider it."

CHARCOALS OF JOHN O'SHEA
by Ella Young

Word was received here that the popular exhibition of charcoal drawings by John O'Shea has been held over at the California palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco for another week and perhaps longer.

Says Ella Young of O'Shea's work in this realm of art:

"It chanced one day, about a year ago, that I was driving slowly along a street in Carmel. All at once I caught sight of something in a window. It looked liked an assyrian bull suddenly come to life and cavorting on paper. I begged my friend, who was driving, to back in the direction of that window. We found ourselves in front of the Denny-Watrous picture gallery. The 'something' was a charcoal drawing by John O'Shea. There were more inside. We went inside. I had never seen charcoals by John O'Shea. These filled me with amazement and delight, and later with a kind of terror.

There was a fighting cock in the attitude of challenge—a delicate and subtle—life and fight in every feather of him; there was a new-hatched barn-yard c h ic k (drawn with a few sardonic strokes, strong and giant-big as the bird felt himself to be) sceptically contemplating the broken egg-shell; there was a monutain-mass sharp-peaked in icy light, velvet-black in century-long shadow; there was a glimpse of an African jungle river with swift-footed savages going down to their canoe; there was a face which grief had eaten, as fire eats into living wood; there was a face where grief had turned to idiocy.

There were cruelly realistic, even ribald, drawings: gibes and taunts provoked by a blatant humanity. It was as if some demoniac impersonal energy were using the form of things as a mask: to be held up empty and grinning, one moment; the next, to be filled with an agony of compassion, comprehension, or disgust.

John O'Shea had broken loose in a riot of genius, gorgeous and terrible.

CHEVROLET Engineering facts prove it. Experience in building nearly ten million cars confirms it. And the record of over 3,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners removes any shadow of doubt about it: The only way to get real economy in a low-priced car is to insist on SIX cylinders and OVERHEAD valves.

SIX cylinders—no more!—because extra cylinders mean extra cost for gas, oil, upkeep and parts. OVERHEAD valves—nothing else!—for the same good reason that airplanes use them. And speedboats. And racing cars. They get the MOST power out of the LEAST gas. That's why overhead valves are the choice of leaders—and champions.

BENJAMIN H. LEIDIG OUT FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Benjamin H. Leidig of Salinas has announced his candidacy for the office of Treasurer of Monterey County at the coming election. Mr. Leidig has been a resident of Monterey County for Forty years having come to this County and State at the age of five from Illinois. He attended the Schools of Monterey graduating from Monterey Union High School in 1910, and later attending the University of California. Mr .Leidig was a member of the firm of Leidig Bros. in Carmel and Monterey for ten years afterward moving to Salinas in 1922 to engage in the Finance Business as Secretary-Manager of the Peoples Finance & Thrift Company of Salinas which position he held until 1929. He afterwards engaged in business for himself, under the name of the Security Finance Company of Salinas and has continued in that business up to and including the present time. Mr. Leidig is therefore well experienced in the handling of Finance Departments; this line of work having been handed down from his father who was at one time Treasurer of La Fayette County in Illinois and Mayor of the City of Vandalia for several years where he was a leading merchant for more than fifty years.

Mr. Leidig may also be remembered by many of the old time residents of Monterey by his former popularity in athletics. He was one of the most popular members on the old 3-C baseball team.

JOY STATES HIS POINT OF VIEW

The County Clerk's office handles matters which Joy considers fall under four divisions, Superior Court, Elections, Board of Supervisors, and General Office duties.

All of the Superior Court proceedings, Civil, Criminal, Probate, Juvenile and Naturalization, pass through the hands of the County Clerk. All of the records are filed in his office, the Court Minutes are written and kept there, the processes, such as Summons, Writs, Citations, Subpoenas issued, and the trial juries, Court calendars, reports and correspondence prepared and drawn. A Deputy County Clerk attends all sessions of the Superior Court. Applicants for citizenship through naturalization are advised and aided in the necessary procedure through this office.

As ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Joy attends all meetings of that Board, handles the minutes and correspondence, and its orders, resolutions, notices and other details are prepared and handled in his office.

One of the County Clerk's heaviest duties is the conduct of elections. He registers the electors, checking, tabulating and arranging their affidavits as they are turned in by approximately fifty registration deputies from throughout the County; aids the candidates in filing their nomination papers, checking and certifying their nominating petitions; checks and certifies initiative and referendum petions, arranges and orders ballots, orders supplies, obtains polling places and election officers, and tabulates the election returns. After the elections this fall the County Clerk must examine the roster of voters, cancel the affidavits of registration of those electors who failed to vote at both such elections, and notify them of such cancellation.

Under the head of general office duties, the County Clerk issues marriage licenses, hunting and angling licenses, takes passport applications certifies acknowledgements of Notaries Public, and the processes of Justices of the Peace, files miscellaneous proceedings and handles miscellaneous correspondence and information.

Practically all matters handled in the County Clerk's office are legal in nature and frequent changes in the law necessitate constant recourse to the statutes. "One of the most difficult problems I encountered when I first entered the County Clerk' office was in learning how and where to look for the law governing procedure" Joy said.

A MERE FOREWORD

The youth of today deserve your interest, your support and your good-will. In our hands, parents and teachers, lies the opportunity to develop a finer and better balanced race of men and women.—O. W. Bardarson, Principal.

WE FEEL NEGLECTED

Carmel is just a nice big playground for adults but what becomes of us? We stay with Mathew and Matilda in the afternoon, while they (our parents) go to a lovely tea or some such thing. At night we are left with the maid, while the ballroom holds the attention of our parents. I move we do something about it.

There are many inexpensive luxuries that children enjoy. For the ones that are on the go all the time, I would suggest swimming, tennis, hiking, horseback riding, dog races, hockey and horse races. For the studious and quiet ones, dramatics, art, woodcarving, writing, drawing, dancing, music, hobby collections, and nature study. No. I am not through yet. There is still another group, the ones that don't mind much what they do. They will enjoy clubs, church organizations, camps, pet shows, summer schools, public playgrounds, and carnivals. These things would be very inexpensive and very enjoyable. It would make Carmel a playground for children as well as for adults.—Norris Thompson, 7th.

A SUGGESTION

The motto of the active child is "keep busy." As I am also a child I know this is unmistakably true. Here in Carmel we have the beach, but this is not a place to swim. There is an undertow and it is too rough to swim. We also have a few private tennis courts, but the children who wish to play tennis quake in their shoes and feel ill at ease when they go to play. My plea is that we have a swimming pool and recreation park in Carmel. There are three pools on the Peninsula, but besides charging very high rates, these are far out of the way of the Carmel inhabitants. Why can't we have a pool in Carmel that costs ten cents?

Now, this is not impossible. There are generous people in Carmel. There have been successful Community Chest Drives, so why can't we have a children's Benefit Drive? Besides making many children happy, it will put many unemployed back to work.—Billy Wheeler, 8th.

SPRING

Old Mother Earth, Wake up! Wake Up!
Your winter sleep is over
Your every hill's a buttercup
While bloom is on the clover.
Open your eyes of pretty flowers
And let your birdies sing,
Give your gifts by days and hours,
All hail to you and spring!

—Fordre Fraties, 6th

A CHILDHOOD MEMORY

I remember a pie on the window sill
Ma in the kitchen and everything still.
Closer and closer I crept until
I grabbed that pi and ate my fill.
That night, of a stomach ache I nearly died
The pain grew worse and I cried and cried
Ma came up and sat by my side
Until I got well.
Then she tanned my hide.

—Carol Card, 7th

SEA HORSES

Rolling, dashing, thundering down
Upon the sandy shore,
Watch the horses come rolling in
With a thundering roar.
See the wild manes tossing foam
High into the air
And then come crashing down again
To go, I know not where.

—Homer Levinson, 7th

A FRIEND

Whether beggar, robber or noble
To you a friend is true
For though life is bleak and dismal
A friend is a friend to you.
Though the life of man grows weary,
As years and time go on,
Still there remains a friend or two
To comfort you with love and a song.
And near the close, I say to you my friend,
Though years may come and years may go
True friendship is without end.

—Lee Van Atta, 7th

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day is a day of worship
For the sake of soldiers brave
Who fought and died in the war
So now we their memoirs save.
In great cities such as Paris
There are unknown soldiers' graves
Where each leader and each general
His big wreath of flowers lays.
Every child and every person
Should remember this great day
And honor every soldier
Who gave his life away.

—Patricia Mack, 6th

ADVICE TO OUR MOTHERS

Not long ago I heard an interesting talk, the subject being our much loved Mothers. Of especial interest was the statement that the home has always been society's best training center. The school has been too busy with the three R's, and the church with thoughts of the next world. It has been said that more than 95% of the children having good homes go straight in life, while more than half of those in the clutches of the law have had no home training to speak of.

While the schools and churches have been doing a great deal toward the education of children, the home has had no particular interest in the development of the new generation. Therefore we should encourage real homelife.—Joyce Uzzell, 8th.

DRAMATICS FOR CHILDREN

"If children were given a chance, they would really do something outstanding." This is the opinion of many adults. Even the children voice the same thought. If this is true, why not give the children their opportunities through dramatics?

In the school there is a play given every Chirstmas. Characters are picked from throughout the school. During the school year there are class plays that give almost every person a chance to be in a play at one time or another.

Every summer the Forest Theater trys to produce a play with the cast of nothing but children. Some of these plays give chances to even children of pre-school age. I, myself, know how enjoyable a good play really can be made.

Fairy plays are not the only things that are enjoyable for children. A small part may be taken in a piece of deep dramatics and the child that is fortunate enough to get into the cast of one of these may open a new era for dramatic genius. So, try to produce more children's plays during the summer.—Raymond Brown, 8th.

CARMEL MIGHT BE INTERESTED

As I was scanning one of the city newspapers the other day, this headline caught my eye: "Paris Plans Home for Intellectuals." Here, I thought, is something that might be suggested to the people of Carmel. As I read on, I learned of the plan of having a large building with swimming pools, clubs for men and women, dormitories, as well as a school and children's playground. This is to be called the "International City of Thought and the Arts." The only setback that I could see was in the name. It should probably be called the "International City of Fight and Squabbles," as the artists would probably always be having wars over their different opinions of art. But, if Paris can do it, why not we?—Homer Levinson, 7th.

IF RIP WERE IN CARMEL

If Rip van Winkle, of legendary fame, were to come to Carmel, he would probably find it the ideal place to continue his slumbers uninterrupted. This takes us back to the artists and other people who come here for inspiration. Alas, alack, after their first week, the enthusiasm dies out and they spend the rest of the time loafing. And, seeing that the promised masterpiece is unfinshed, they go back to the city ahead of time and finish it there.

The tourists all get the idea that Carmel is a very hotsy, totsy place, but upon getting here, they find that the real Carmelites go to bed at about the time the average city dweller is just getting warmed up. However, these too, are finally subdued by the atmosphere, etc, and are a good deal wiser when they leave than when they came.—Katherine Beaton, 8th.

THESE OUTSIDERS

I suppose you have heard how quickly news spreads when women hear of it. It is my belief that there are several women in the newspaper business, else how could a little bad water in Carmel lead people in New York to believe such dreadful things about us?

People in other cities, at the slightest mention of your having ever lived in Carmel, are apt to ask to see some of your art work, or to hear you play on some instrument you never heard of unless you accidentally listened to your music instructor at the proper time. If you are a thinking person, you will realize that so much publicity is not good for Carmel and its occupants, especially if they ever intend to leave—Barbara Haasis, 8th.

BETTER MOVIES, PLEASE

It was a sad day when the movie was invented, for now, in 1934, many years after the first non-talkie was put onto the screen, you can witness half the juvenile population of Carmel attending a gangster or wishy-washy romance picture. You people who call yourselves grownups ought to be ashamed of yourselves for giving a dime for one of the deteriorating movies that eat their way right into the mind of your child. You should make it an outstanding point to see that good movies come to Carmel on Saturday.

It's the type of movie that counts. If you entertained yourself with a good wholesome comedy, you would not be wasting an evening. Or you can attend an historical picture that fixes vividly in your mind the life of great men. You will have learned better than you could ever have learned from a book.—Billy Wheeler, 8th.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

My papa, as you know, is Mr. Flavin, a great play writer of Carmel. One night as we were coming home from Europe, my father wanted to take a bath. We were all ready for dinner. We had to wait for him. We waited and waited until we called in through the door and said, "We can't wait any longer." We went to dinner. While we were having our dessert he came in. We asked him where he had been all that time. He said he had been in the bath tub. Then we asked him what he did in the bath tub. He said he had been thinking about his next play.—Sean Flavin, 4th.

My aunt Dora, who is known in Carmel as Mrs. Dora Comstock, has written many poems under the name of Dora Hagemeyer. Some of her books are: "Swords of Grass," "Songs of the Green Flame," "Leaf and Stone," and a book of poems for the children called "Periwinkle Patch." She is now working on another book of poems, which I hope will be as good as the first ones.

Last year she was the president of the P. T. A. She started a clothes closet for needy children. She has visited the schools many times and has told many stories to different classes for about seven years. Whenever she comes into a classroom, the children clap, because they think she is going to tell them a story.

Whenever there is a party at school, Mrs. Comstock decorates the tables and the room, and helps to make the whole thing a success. My aunt Dora is fond of music. She is a member of the Carmel Music Society, and her two boys, David and Max, play in the Peninsula orchestra.

She has lately become a member of the Carmel Library Board, where she will help choose good reading for us all.

Mrs. Comstock not only goes about helping in Carmel, but she tends to her family and its needs. Doing all these things seems hard, but she manages to keep her house interesting. For instance, on Christmas we and all her relatives, gather around and we sing songs and have an interesting and cheerful time. Things like this are always happening in her house. That is one reason why people enjoy visiting her. I hope I can be as helpful as she is when I grow up.—Joyce Whitcomb, 7th.

My father, Armin Hansen, was born in Alameda. He is an artist and I like the sea work he has done best. He has done a lot of pictures and is one of the foremost artists of the world. When he has time he eitheir plays cards or sits in his studio and whittles a stick.

Daddy built a model of a fishing boat. It took eight years to build it. He would not sell it unless he got about ten thouand dollars for it, because of the work and material put into it. He also made a light house cap to wear at a dance Daddy put it on his head. There was a little hole in the front to see through. As he danced he would snap the light off and on so that it would look like a light house.—Motje Hansen, 4th.

My father, Paul Whitman, was born in Denver, Colorado. He went to public schools in Missouri. He spent two years in the world war. Then he went into the insurance business until 1926. Since then he has been working as an artist. He draws much in black and white, but most of his work is in water color. His main hobbies are hunting and fishing. Sometimes I watch him paint, but most of the time he likes to be alone.—Colden Whitman, 5th.

My mother, Mary Adda Reade, is one of the reporters for the Monterey Herald. She reviewed books for the Chicago Evening Post before we moved to California. Mother writes up musicals, art exhibits, and news of Carmel people. Although she likes her work very much, Mother would rather stay home and keep house.—Mary Jean Reade, 5th.

My grandfather, Frederick P. Bechdolt, is known to his adult friends as "Fred," and to his family, as "Beck." In his life he has traveled all over the west. Up until a few years ago, every summer he would go for a trip some place in the west. When he went on these trips, I sometimes went with him. The object of these trips was to get information for his stories.

"Beck" is wise on the history of the West. He has spoken to many famous men, and has written about a great many more. He is well educated in the ways of nature. He is the best camper I have ever camped with. He can pick a camp site that the average camper would not see. He loves to hunt and fish.

His most important hobby is horseback riding. Until a few years ago, he always had a horse. "Beck" would like to live on a ranch and punch cows. I, myself, am very fond of my grandfather. I think those who know him will agree with me that Frederick Bechdolt is as interesting as the books he writes.—Freer Gottfried, 8th.

My mother, Ruth Austin, is closing her dancing school for the summer. On the 18th of May she gave her final lesson which showed the type of work she teaches, and each child appeared in dances also. Miss Austin, herself, is rehearsing with the Betty Horst dancers who are giving a joint concert with the New Music Society of San Francisco on May 28th. "Ionization," the new composition by Varese will be played for the first time in the West. It has never been used by dancers. The Betty Horst dancers will do five group numbers. Miss Austin will be the solo dancer. Henry Cowell will conduct the orchestra.—Roe Marie Mattimore, 7th.

Those of the Carmelites who are familiar with the Red Cross probably know my dad, whose official title is Herman Crossman. He's the tall man that gives the treasurer's reports at the Red Cross meetings. He usually has on a soft felt hat and coat that doesn't match his trousers.

Whenever the dogs or the children get in a row, Dad puts on his hat and takes a stroll around the garden. He is a very good natured man and usually has a grin on his face from ear to ear. Dad likes all the boy scouts and, of course, all the committee men. However, don't expect to find him running around in khaki shorts or a scout uniform. Without a doubt, Pop has the best disposition ever, and I think I'm a mighty lucky girl to have the pal that I have.—Doris Crossman, 8th.

My daddy Lincoln Steffens, was born in San Francisco. Then he went to Sacramento. When he was a little boy he didn't like school, but he liked to ride horses and he wrote about it in his book. Then he went to the soldier's camp. Then he went to Italy. Then he went and got me. Then one night when I went to bed he scratched my back. And that's how he started that bad habit of every night scratching my back.

The only time I made a speech was at a birthday party for Fremont Older. There was an old man there called Erskine Scott Wood. I think he was eighty two years old, and as he began his speech, he said, "as the oldest one here." Then as I began my speech, I said, "as the youngest one here."—Pete Steffens, 4th.

My father, Mr. J. A. Briggs, started collecting stamps at the age of ten. He made books containing stamps to be sold for one cent and up. These he sold to the children in his school, also to grown people. In this way he made his spending money. From about 1875 to 1932, he worked at many trades. Then in 1932 he went into the stamp business. Now he has many stores up the coast to Vancouver, B. C. and down the coast to Los Angeles.—Devoe Briggs, 7th.

PUTTING OUT THE HOME TOWN PAPER

"Where are the poems? Where are the Stories? Where are the Editorials? Where are the Interviews? Where are the Block Prints?" thundered a certain Sunset teacher a few week ago. That is one of the difficulties of putting out a paper, not having anything to put in it. Of course there are other difficulties that are encountered while putting out a town paper, such as not having anyone to do the typing or not having anyone to make the block prints. But the students of Sunset, with the help of several of the teachers mastered most of these small troubles. The main trouble is who will write for the paper? This year a number volunteered but did not seem to catch the inspiration of writing something interesting and instead of writing would sit and look at the ceiling or wall as if to catch inspiration from them. The Advisor of the Paper, however, tried to give every one who showed any ability to write the chance to write some kind of article. We realize that this paper is not as well edited as it could be but we hope that you also realize that the work that was put into this issue of the Carmel Pine Cone is much more than what the average editor and his assistants put into it. So with this thought in mind read the paper edited by the students of Sunset School.—L. V. A.

THE VILLAGE NEWS-REEL

Mrs. J. N. Pomeroy was married to Mr. Walter W. Schirmer at Modesto, Saturday May 12. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George I. Long and witnessed by Mrs. Long and Mr. Richard Draper of Pacific Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Shirmer are both well known residents of Carmel and will make their home here.

Litle five-year-old Barbara Josselyn was entertained at a "Del Monte" party at her home last Monday afternoon by her uncle Winsor Josselyn. The party was like a Del Monte party should be with exactly what the little lady thinks whistles, balloons and ice cream. Plans were to make it just a party for two but Barbara's father who was an on-looker was finally admitted and joined in the fun.

The summer has set in, at least it seems that way for we can now see new faces and new dogs. It was first at the post office I realized summer had set in. Instead of falling over a mere five or six dogs, I set a mark at tripping no less than fourteen times. Good old summer!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The Very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." These words from I Thessalonians comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Soul and Body." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God" (I John 3: 1 to :)

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The material body and mind are temporal but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation; for the consicous infinite of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged . . . Man's true consciousness is in the mental, not in any bodily or personal likeness to Spirit" (p. 302).

Fewer Aches and Pains
More Health and Pleasure

PAIN drags you down—physically, mentally, morally.

Why continue to endure it? Try Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills for Headache, Neuralgia, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic, and Periodic Pains. They seldom fail.

Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills are pleasant to take and prompt to act. They do not upset the stomach, cause constipation or leave you with a dull, depressed feeling.

Ask your druggist or any of the hundreds of thousands enthusiastic users. Probably you too can find relief.

I think all Dr. Miles medicines are wonderful, but Anti-Pain Pills are my favorite.
Mrs. Doc Blankenship, Stamford, Texas

I have used your Anti-Pain Pills only a short time, but they have given me prompt relief. They did for me in a week more than any other medicine I had taken for a year. Phil Geller,
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

I am never without Anti-Pain Pills. I think they are much better than anything else I have ever used. Sometimes when I am tired and nervous and feel like I would go under, I take two Anti-Pain Pills and in a sort time I feel like a different person. Mrs. S. Tidabach,
Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania

Your Anti-Pain Pills have been used in my home with wonderful results. I recommend them.
Maggie Belle Dudley, Vanceboro, N. C.

Your Anti-Pain Pills helped me a great deal. I have used them for years. I carry them everywhere in my purse and always keep them in the house. They have saved me a great many sick headaches.

TOWN AFFAIRS
by Dick Tevis

An interivew with Mayor Thoburn netted us a good deal of information. We discussed the street question with him.

He said, "We are trying to keep as economical as possible. In regard to the street question, oil has been found to suit the purpose for economy and also will stand a good deal of wear. Another reason for the use of oil is that the people of Carmel like to keep their city different from others." Other problems before the council are the library situation, the recreation program, and the fire-house inspection.

When interviewed, Judge Wood said, "The people have been very law-abiding lately. There hasn't been a case for ten days (this was May 14th) and the last one was only a due caution affair. The children of the school have also been good. No trouble has come from them," the Judge chuckled.

UNEMPLOYMENT

In a talk with Mrs. Hayford we discussed some of the problems of the unemployed. She pointed out that since last September the unemployed have been under the supervision of the county and state relief rolls. In general the situation is much improved. The working man has been dealt with mostly, so his standard of living has come up. The only thing is that the adminstrations of the government are not steady jobs, and as soon as the money runs out the people will be back where they started from. However, their plan is to stimulate business before this happens so everyone can have a job.

DALTONS BOX TONIGHT AT MANZANITA SMOKER

Bob and Frank Dalton, Carmel's well known boxers, will appear locally for the first time in many months when they enter the Manzanita Club ring tonight at the Smoker at 8 o'clock.

Manager Jack Dalton, father of the boys, has assembled a first rate card, consisting of Frank boxing "Bear Cat" Tevis, both at 147 pounds, Bob against Bud Garcia, at 126 pounds, and Al Tyler matched with Joe Sanchez, at 140 pounds.

Prospective guests should see members of the Manzanita Club for details, and do so at once in view of the interest the boxing has aroused, and of the good times always enjoyed at this pioneer club of Carmel.
